

Little Talents

(Art and chess for kids from low-income families)

Application package

About Us

RUSART Fine Arts Co. is a private art studio, operated in Greater Vancouver since 2009. We offer art classes, chess lessons, and magic lessons.

Now, more than 100 students are attending our art classes on weekly basis. For more than 7 years of work, over 600 students have attended our art classes. About 1/3 of our current students are long-term clients, have been taking our lessons for longer than a year. Every fifth student came here by their friend's referral.

All our principal teachers are professional artists and designers with years of experience teaching arts to both kids and adults.

Our main studio is located in New Westminister up-town and it's very easy accessible by transit and car drive.

About Our Project

According to Statistics Canada, one on every 10 children lives in a low-income family. About 23% of female lone-parent families are low-income.

Starting 2017 we're going to offer art and chess lessons for low-income families with discounts. Approved low-income families pay just 75% of tuition fees, when they sign up for a semester courses: chess or art, by parents' choice.

How it works

1. If you'd like to have art classes with us, please submit your application package by email (elena@rusart.ca), mail (200-733 6th Street, New Westminster, BC, V3L 3C6) , or in person (200-733 6th Street, New Westminster, BC, V3L 3C6).
2. We accept and select applications from low-income families based on their eligibility
3. As soon as a qualified child is approved we place you in a list on "first come first served basis".
4. This program is financed by sponsors. If we have spots available your child will be enrolled in the program right away. If we don't have enough available spots we'll place you in a wait list and enroll your child as soon as possible.
5. We issue official tax receipts for all payments you make.
